TTDC's Translation Capabilities Stand Apart!

Translators act as contact points

Our translators are responsible for interfacing with customers. Our translators will directly propose the ideal specifications and finishing touches for each customer's requirements, answer post-delivery questions, and take part in consultations.

Technical and patent translation professionals

We are a professional translation function with more than 25 years of experience in the fields of technical document and patent translation. In addition to expert knowledge, we can respond to a wide variety of requirements, such as differentiating between the terminology preferences of different customers.

Thorough immersion in Toyota Motor Corporation's approach to building cars

Our translators are completely versed in Toyota's terminology, development flow, and concepts of continuous improvement (kaizen) and safety. We will translate the essential meaning of your words.

Complete confidentiality

Our field-leading confidentiality management capabilities ensure the integrity of our customers' valuable information. If you are worried about confidentiality, use TTDC with the utmost confidence!
